

Prof. Dr. Ute Krämer

Curriculum vitae

- 1989 - 1992 Student of Biochemistry, University of Hanover, Germany
- 1989 - 1995 German National Scholar
- 1992 - 1996 D.Phil. at the Department of Plant Sciences, University of Oxford, UK, Cecil Rhodes Scholar
Supervisors: Professor J. Andrew C. Smith (University of Oxford, UK), Professor Alan J. M. Baker (University of Melbourne, Australia)
- 1996 - 1997 Postdoctoral Researcher, AgBiotech Center, Rutgers University, NJ, USA, NATO Fellowship
Laboratory of Professor Ilya Raskin and Professor David Salt
- 1998 - 1999 Assistant Professor to the Chair of Plant Metabolic Physiology and Biochemistry, Professor Karl-Josef Dietz, University of Bielefeld, Germany
- 2000 - 2006 Leader of an Independently Funded Research Group
Plant Metal Homeostasis at the Max Planck Institute of Molecular Plant Physiology, Potsdam-Golm, Germany
Biofuture Prize, German Federal Ministry of Education and Research
- 07/2006 Habilitation in Molecular Plant Physiology, University of Potsdam
"Metal Tolerance, Metal Hyperaccumulation and Metal Homeostasis in Higher Plants"
- 2007 - 2009 Heisenberg Fellow and Research Group Leader at the University of Heidelberg
Evolutionary Functional Genomics and Plant Metal Homeostasis Networks
- Since 10/2009 Head of the Department of Plant Physiology and Full Professor, Ruhr University Bochum