Your tasks:

- MoNN&Di aims to investigate the function of monoaminergic transmitter systems and analyse how they are involved in the development of mental and neurodegenerative disease. In particular, optogenetic probes and genetically encodable sensors will be used to investigate monoaminergic signalling pathways at the cellular, network and behavioural levels. The four-year programme will culminate with a PhD in Neuroscience or Dr. rer. nat.

Your profile:

- A Master's degree or equivalent is required
- Ability and willingness to write a research report/publication that contributes to the research programme of the Research Training Group
- Excellent command of the English language
- commitment and motivation
- independent, self-reliant and committed working style

extent:	part-time
duration:	temporary
beginning:	01.09.2023
application deadline:	30.04.2023

The Ruhr-Universität Bochum is one of Germany's leading research universities, addressing the whole range of academic disciplines. A highly dynamic setting enables researchers and students to work across the traditional boundaries of academic subjects and faculties. To create knowledge networks within and beyond the university is RUB's declared aim.

The Ruhr-Universität Bochum stands for diversity and equal opportunities. For this reason, we favour a working environment composed of heterogeneous teams, and seek to promote the careers of individuals who are underrepresented in our respective professional areas. The Ruhr-Universität Bochum expressly requests job applications from women. In areas in which they are underrepresented they will be given

- strong organisational and coordination skills
- cooperative and team-oriented way of working
- Participation in the lectures, workshops, courses of the Research Training Group preference in the case of equivalent qualifications with male candidates. Applications from individuals with disabilities are most welcome.

Our offerings:

- Challenging and varied tasks with a high level of personal responsibility
- Qualified familiarisation
- Support from and cooperation with competent colleagues
- Team-oriented cooperation in a committed, international and appreciative team
- a friendly and collegial environment

Additional information:

At the request of the applicant (m,f,x), the staff council may be involved in selection interviews.

If the position is funded by third-party funds the employee has no teaching obligation.
