We invite you to the lectures and look forward to intensive exchange and lively discussions!

MAKING EUROPE GREENER
Designing a sustainable future through politics, economy, university work and citizen initiatives.

Lecture Series for the Europe Week at the Ruhr-Universität Bochum
03.— 07. May 2021

During the Europe Week of this year a lecture series will take place online. The topic will be “Making Europe Greener: Designing a sustainable future through politics, economy, university work and citizen initiatives“.

Two of the various lectures will be held in English:

Wednesday, 5th of May, 16:30: “Upscaling Ecosystem-Based Disaster Risk Reduction in Europe“, Dr. Karen Sudmeier-Rieux, United Nations Environment Programme

Thursday, 6th of May, 18:00: "On Corporate Social Responsibility and Responsible Innovation", Dr. Kostas Iatridis, Sustainability & Management Director of Studies, University of Bath

Further lectures held in German are also open for participation for speakers of the German language!

Further information/ programme: https://www.ruhr-uni-bochum.de/ecue/aktuelles.html.de
Questions about registration: europawoche.rub@gmail.com
Registration possible from the 14th of April
Organised by: Programme Office and Students of MA European Culture and Economy

sponsored by:
Minister für Bundes- und Europaangelegenheiten sowie Internationales des Landes Nordrhein-Westfalen