

Job posting

The department of Neuropsychology of Prof. Dr. Nikolai Axmacher is searching for a:

Student Assistant (m/f)

We are looking for a highly motivated Bachelor or Master student with a background in Psychology or a comparable degree program, who would like to work in a structured and precise way. Your work includes but is not limited to administrating experiment testing, organizing an EEG database, and tracing locations of intracranial electrodes.

If you are

- Interest in neuropsychological research
- fluent in English and German
- Having a reliable and conscientious work attitude
- confident mastery of Office software

Please do contact us.

The position has an extent of 8-9,4 hours per week (depending on your degree) and is compendeted according to RUB regulations.

At the Ruhr-University Bochum, we want to promote the careers of woman in the areas in which they are underrepresented. We are therefore very pleased to receive female applicants. The applications of suitably disabled and equal applications are also welcome.

Please adress applications with the usual documents (motivational letter, CV, and testimonials) via mail to Mr. Alex Babicz, alex.babicz@rub.de.

Hiring time:

01.04.2019

Workload:

8-9,4 h /week
(depending on qualification)

Application deadline:

28.02.2019

Applications to:

alex.babicz@rub.de