Travel recommendations for rail passengers and public transport
Bochum Central Station is served by ICE, IC, EC, regional and suburban trains at a high frequency. From there, you can reach us easily by taking the underground line U35 straight to the Ruhr-Universität, which has its own station named after it. The U35 (direction Bochum Hustadt) runs at five-minute intervals on weekdays and takes just ten minutes to get to the university.

Travel recommendations for car drivers
Motorists can also easily reach the Ruhr-Universität via the dense network of motorways in Germany and especially in North Rhine-Westphalia. The quickest route is via the motorway junction Bochum/Witten, where the A43 and A44 meet. Simply take the exit Bochum-Querenburg, follow the signs to the “Ruhr-Universität” and then the (electronic) information boards.

Travel recommendations for long-distance and air travellers
Four airports - Dortmund, Münster/Osnabrück, Cologne/Bonn and Düsseldorf - are within a reasonable distance of the Ruhr-Universität. Dusseldorf Airport, however, is not only the largest, but also the most easily accessed: there are direct connections between the airport and Bochum’s main train station up to eight times per hour, and the journey only takes a good half an hour.
Conference venue at Universität Duisburg-Essen, Campus Essen (Building R12)

There will be a bus transfer from Bochum main station to the conference venue in Essen.

Way to Universität Duisburg-Essen from Mainstation
From Essen main station you can get there as follows: Please take one of the subway Entrance (marked "U") at Essen main station, go to platform 1 of the subway. You need a tram ticket "short distance fare/Kurzstrecke". Take one of the underground tram lines 101, 105, or 107 from platform 1 (destinations: Germaniaplatz, Gelesenkirchen Hbf, Fintrop Unterstr). Leave the tram at the second underground station "Rheinischer Platz". Take the exit "Universität", and after a walk of ca. 200 meters and after crossing the "Universitätsstraße" you will arrive at a square. Enter building 12, where you will find the conference desk.
