The workshop “Defining Thoughts” aims at working out a notion of thought fully usable in interdisciplinary research. While each discipline, from linguistics and philosophy to psychology and neuroscience, traditionally uses its own notion of thought, “Defining Thoughts” brings together researchers from each of these disciplines to discuss the different notions of thought and to develop a common notion making interdisciplinary communication possible.

Kindly sponsored by:
Volkswagen Stiftung

Local Workshop Management: Dr. Gottfried Vosgerau, Institut für Philosophie, Ruhr-Universität Bochum